HOW TO: Find a Journal Using the Library Search Box

Step 1: Start the Library’s homepage at http://library.ucalgary.ca.

Step 2: Type in the title of the journal that you would like to find and click on Search.
Step 3: The results will appear in various categories, i.e., Articles & Book Chapters, Journals, Books & Media, Background Information, Recommended Databases. Scroll down until you see Journals.

Step 4: You will see that there is a listing for print version of the journal as well as the online one. Click on the title of the print one. You will be taken to the Library Catalogue description of this journal.

Step 6: You can go to the shelves in the TFDL to locate the journal or, if you want the older titles, you can Place Hold and get these delivered to a library of your choice from the HDL.

Step 7: Once you get these, you can browse through the journals to find the articles that you want.
Step 8: If you want to browse through the online version of this journal, then click on the link for Full Text Online.

Step 9: You will be taken to a screen that tells you where the online version of this journal may be found. In this case, it is JSTOR.
Step 10: Click on the JSTOR link. You will now get this screen.

!JSTOR Screen

You can now browse through each issue.

Prepared by: Dani Pahulje, University of Calgary Library

Date: January 15, 2015